

NOC: 52111

Graphic Arts Technician

WHAT DO THEY DO?

Graphic Arts Technicians help turn creative ideas into visual reality. They work on various aspects of design projects, from conceptualizing and interpreting designs to laying out pages and preparing materials for different types of publishing.

THIS CAREER MIGHT BE FOR YOU IF YOU ARE:

If you have a keen eye for design, enjoy being creative, are detail-oriented, and have a knack for visual storytelling, this role could be a great fit. Skills in technology and an ability to work collaboratively are also important.

JOB TITLES IN THIS CATEGORY

- Animation Technician
- Computer Graphics Technician
- Visual Effects (VFX) Artist
- Multimedia Graphic Design Technician
- Graphic Arts Renderer

TASKS AND WORK ACTIVITIES:

- Assist in conceptualizing design projects
- Interpret design specifications or sketches
- Manage page layout and lettering
- Prepare production materials for various publishing mediums

TYPES OF EMPLOYERS

Graphic Arts Technicians are employed by publishing houses, advertising and marketing agencies, video game studios, multimedia companies, and TV and film production companies. Some choose to work independently.

EDUCATIONAL PATHWAYS

Typically, a diploma or degree in graphic design, visual arts, or a related field is required to become a Graphic Arts Technician.

SALARY RANGES

(PROVIDED BY PAYSCALE)

Entry	Mid	Senior
$38K /yr	$46K /yr	$64K /yr

Explore your post-secondary options:

<https://techmanitoba.ca/careerlaunchpad/>

